In my book Post-Truth from the MIT Press Essential Knowledge Series, I put forward the idea that we are now living in a post-truth era. This does not mean that truth does not matter.

Post-Truth Denial | The MIT Press

Post-truth as political propaganda is certainly one use (or misuse) of truth that neither Pinker nor I discount, but McIntyre then accuses Pinker (and others) of merely knocking down one or more of four post-truth straw men: (1) that truth doesn’t matter, (2) that no one really cares about truth anymore, (3) that no one can find the truth ...

Post-truth - Wikipedia

This is a terrific book that takes a philosophical, but not at all dense, critical look at the current media/political environment of post truth. The author is, in my opinion, very fair. The causes of the the current post truth environment are changes in media, political polarization, and the cognitive biases that humans are always subject to.

How the structure of news, information, and knowledge is evolving and how news media can foster social connection. While the public believes that journalism remains crucial for democracy, there is a general sense that the news media are performing this role poorly. In The Social Fact, John Wihbey makes the case that journalism can better serve democracy by focusing on ways of fostering social ...
